

Club of the Year Entry Form

The purpose of the AjPHA Club of the Year Award is to recognize outstanding AjPHA regional clubs. AjPHA regional clubs serve to provide an educational and social organization for youth members who share a common interest in the American Paint Horse. AjPHA regional club activities should be organized by the youth members and supervised by an adult advisor. Clubs should work to serve their communities, provide social and educational activities for youth members, promote the American Paint Horse and provide an outlet to educate youth members about responsibilities they will encounter in the equine industry and throughout their lives.

To enter the contest, advisors must complete the form below and include either a scrapbook or PowerPoint presentation. Both should include appropriate documentation, such as newspaper clippings, newsletters, show premiums, advertisements, flyers, photographs, or any other material your club feels is evidence that the action was taken. If you submit a scrapbook, please do not include loose materials and make sure all items are secure.

You may include activities taking place from the previous November to the current November.

Entries must be postmarked by December 1. The winner of AjPHA Club of the Year will receive $1,000.
